Homeward Pet Holding “Kitten Shower” Gathering & Fundraiser

Woodinville, Wash – Homeward Pet Adoption Center is expecting—more than 500 kittens! Sunny days and warmer weather means it’s raining kittens and hundreds will soon be pouring through the shelter’s doors, needing food, medical aid and quality care before they’re healthy enough for adoption.

To prepare for its newest arrivals, Homeward Pet is holding its 3rd Annual Fur Baby Shower on Saturday, June 16, at MoltenWorks Glass Studio in Woodinville.

"Caring for just one kitten takes countless hours," Homeward Pet Executive Director Gary Rubin says. "From all the checkups at our clinic to our foster families bottle-feeding newborns every few hours, it takes remarkable teamwork and compassion to get our kittens ready to pounce into their new homes."

Help Homeward Pet shower the kittens with essential supplies and stop by MoltenWorks between 10:30am-12:30pm on the 16th to drop off kitten donations. Enjoy light refreshments, games and fun-filled, family-friendly activities. Plus, get a sneak peek at some of the animal shelter’s youngest arrivals! More information and photos from last year are available at <https://www.homewardpet.org/events/furbabyshower/>.

Items that will benefit Homeward Pet kittens most include wet and dry kitten food, cat scratchers, kitty litter and toys. A complete list of essential items can be found on Homeward Pet’s Fur Baby Shower Amazon Wish List.
