

Animal Control Services

Animal Control Services provide housing for stray animals and care for lost pets until they can be returned to their owners, and these shelters are contracted to provide those services for a specific area. If you have found an animal or lost a pet, contact the facility in your area for assistance.

Because lost pets can wander, if you are searching for a lost pet it is recommended that you also contact other nearby Animal Control Services.

Homeward Pet Adoption Center does not provide Animal Control Services and does not take in stray or found animals.

Please note - while these organizations are contracted to shelter stray animals in their jurisdictions, many do not supply other animal control services. If you need assistance with a loose animal, or have concerns about animal cruelty, call your local Police Department. Always exercise caution when interacting with an unfamiliar animal, and never attempt to catch an animal that is behaving aggressively. In an emergency, dial 911.
